OUR ABILITY TO SUIT YOUR FIRM'S NEEDS:

Here at Per Diem Works, Inc., our attorneys know what it's like to feel the everyday stress and pressure of a busy caseload. For five years now, Per Diem Works, Inc. has been helping small firms and solo practitioners to succeed in today's competitive marketplace. We feel proud to distinguish ourselves in the per diem industry, by assisting in various fields of law, and by covering a wide range of cases in civil, state, federal courts and the appellate courts, within the five boroughs, Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester, and in courts throughout the country (see our Immigration court services link).

We'd like to take a moment to explain how Per Diem Works, Inc. can help free up your time and resources, help you to keep your firm's workload under control, and give you an advantage in staying on top of your cases, be it in litigation or appellate practice.

Partners and Solo Practitioners:

Nearly all of our staff are or have been solo practitioners or small firm associates at one point. If you're in litigation or appeals, we know what your weeks are like!

- A cluster of simultaneous deadlines and obligations: trial dates are nearing, three motions are filed against your plaintiff-clients, and an influx of new business warrants your attention...
- An associate leaves or is out sick, and trial dates are nearing...
- You're on trial, and have an appeal to get out ASAP (or sooner)

When these things happen all at once, the barrage of deadlines and demands from clients, the Courts, and your supervising partners can feel overwhelming. Per Diem Works, Inc.'s attorneys can work with your firm, to assure that you and your associate sare not overwhelmed with paperwork.

Per Diem Works, Inc.'s qualified, experienced attorneys will cover your court appearances arbitrations, 50-h hearings, depositions and more. Are your associates spread all over the courts? Let our attorneys handle the coverage, while you spend your time on billable work for your clients, handling administrative tasks in the office, and networking to attract more clients.

In addition, Per Diem Works, Inc.'s attorneys will assist your firm with all phases of litigation: from the initial pleadings and discovery right up to the pre-trial orders, motions in limine, and trial preparation. We draft and complete motions for summary judgment, motions to renew and reargue, appeals, pre-an and post-arbitration briefs , and petitions. Do you need to close out a cluster of small cases? Let us work on that big summary judgment motion for you, while you tend to your caseload. Are you engrossed in protracted litigation on a big case?, Let us assist you with your motions in limine, trial briefs, or coverage of other cases from your office, so that you can keep focused on the extensive trial that lies ahead.

Per Diem Works, Inc.: The economically efficient solution to your firm's needs:

No matter how much work you do, there always seems to be more of it!

Hiring additional, full time associates to deal with temporary "crunch periods" is not economically efficient, as you bear the costs of malpractice coverage, office space, training, health benefits, pension and salary for each additional associate.

- Taking on fewer cases does not guarantee that you won't find yourself in a pinch, and further reduces the revenues that you need to defray the costs of running a law practice.

So what is the solution to the litigator's dilemma?

- Outsourcing your motions, discovery, appeals, Orders to Show Cause, and other projects to Per Diem Works, Inc. frees up your firm's time for client consultations, trial preparation, and settlement meetings. Letting us handle your court appearances enables you to deal with cases that are in the office. You can rely on us to manage the traveling to and from Court, waiting for the calendar call, and dealing with judges and opposing counsel, while you attend to running a law practice and doing it successfully.
